

Rules Committee,

We as American's learn about voting in grade school and what we learn is how you pick class presidents and others to lead your school and represent the student body. the same way we choose The Congress of the United States. President is the only time it's "1 person 1 vote." The electoral college was good in it's time but is now obsolete. Only a few states control the turnout and that is wrong. My vote in Oregon doesn't mean anything unless I vote for the winner, which only means bigger population states agree with me. If the people of America really have the power to decide the presidential outcome make the Presidential Election everyone has equal say about. GIVE US THE POPULAR VOTE IN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS. Our last election should prove my point, we ALL deserve the best candidate not the one that lied the best to get results.
