Senate Rules Committee
OR

Dear Committee,

Dear Senator,

It is my understanding that the electoral college is an outdated replica of Civil War days. It was instituted to balance the voting outcomes in the southern states because the majority in the south were black. So southern states were given more representation through the electoral college.

We no longer need this albatross around our necks. All citizens can now vote, and all citizens should be represented, especially in these times when voting systems are corrupted, and electors can be bought and sold. Please add your name to those voices which are working for this change.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Joann Henderson
