

Rules Committee,

I'm writing in support of HB 2927. As evidenced by our most recent election, the Electoral College system has outlived its usefulness. It was initially intended to "level the playing field" by giving smaller states more nearly equal representation. But nowadays it seems to pervert the will of the people, allowing for a candidate to win the popular vote but lose the election overall.

Direct election of candidates--at least for national office--offers a much fairer way . Please vote in favor of the National Popular Vote bill.

Thank you.
