

doubling rent on 'existing' tenants is certainly wrong. However, limiting to 5% is equally wrong for reasons below. IDEA: Perhaps creating a rent increase appeals department if excessive rent increases so can be looked at on case by case basis might be better way to deal with.

Johanna