Senator Dembrow and others on the Committee,

I was disturbed to hear that now there is a possibility of a pet adoption tax deduction versus tax credit.

I seriously doubt that those for whom the bill is, presumably, supposed to help – those in lower income brackets, will be the main beneficiaries of a tax deduction.

We know that most people in lower income brackets do not itemize deductions.

I find no sense to this new idea at all; it's worse than the original.
