Note: Classification of accommodation types changed in 2013. The tables presented here reflect the new accommodation type categorization.

<sup>1</sup> "Multiple" represents approximately 350 lodging providers that reported more than one accommodation type when they registered. Table 1.3 provides counts for every accommodation type listed on these registration forms. However, because lodging providers are asked to report sales and tax receipts in total, it is not possible to break out the sales or tax by accommodation type for providers registered with more than one type of accommodation. Tables 1.1, 1.2, and 1.4 provide sales and tax receipts for these lodging providers in a "multiple" accommodation type category.

accommodation type listed on these registration forms. However, because lodging providers are asked to report sales and tax receipts in total, it is not possible to break out the sales or tax by accommodation type for providers registered with more than one type of accommodation. Tables 1.1, 1.2, and 1.4 provide sales and tax receipts for these lodging providers in a "multiple" accommodation type category.
