

To whom it may concern. The proposal of this bill as well intended as it may be should really look how it could be used and have a heavy, stern and what I see as a highly potential violation of someone's constitutional rights.

I take the constitution seriously as I do the safety of every American, but in today's date and society I ask this question. What would our fore father say ? I think they would look at this with a very serious tone and look at all avenues before violation ones rights who is not breaking the law or is not a threat to others. If we have a shot gun affect; no pun intended, meaning we treat everyone as a whole rather each individual on a case by case merrit, we are not following what I see as what the constitution is written up about.

Please look at this with a serious tone and not just a fix all bill to be rushed through and potentially devastate the freedoms of innocent Americans.
