The Deschutes is a Wild and Scenic River. It has lots of riverside trails now and only needs a bit more connecting trails and a bridge to allow easy access from Sunriver all the way to Bend. There has always been a plan to complete the river trail system and a bridge is the best way. In addition, the river has always been looked after to maintain its wild and scenic character. Prohibiting a bridge is overkill and does not serve the will of the great majority of river trail users.
