

Kate Brown
Governor

Oregon Commission on Black Affairs
“Advocating Equality and Diversity”
421 SW Oak St., Portland, OR 97204
O 503.302.9725
Email: oaco.mail@oregon.gov
Website: www.oregon.gov/OCBA

Testimony in Support of HJR 203
February 19, 2018
Senate Committee on Health Care, 1 pm, HR B

Chair Senator Monnes Anderson, Co-Chair Senator DeBoer, Senator Beyer, Senator Knopp, and Senator Steiner Hayward:

I appreciate the opportunity to offer my testimony in support of House Joint Resolution 203, which would ensure every Oregon resident access to effective, medically appropriate and affordable health care. At their request, I am also submitting this testimony on behalf of James Morris, Chair of the Oregon Commission on Black Affairs and the Chairs of the Commissions on Asian and Pacific Islander Affairs, Hispanic Affairs and Commission for Women, each of which supports HJR 203.

My name is Mariotta Gary-Smith, and I’m a member of the Oregon Commission on Black Affairs, and a trained public/sexual health educator, with over 20 years of experience. Since 2009, I’ve worked in Portland, my home city, with a specific focus in communities of color.

I identify with and live every day as an African American/Black person in Oregon – which brings statistical cursors of poorer health outcomes as noted in multiple studies (2015 State of Black Oregon; 2016 Communities of Color Coalition). As someone who works in communities that have historical roots of denial and disenfranchisement, it is of great importance that I’m able to provide clear, concise and accurate health information to people that I train, educate and advocate for. Teaching people how to advocate for the health care they deserve is what drives me every day. I’ve been fortunate to have learned from a strong family and community base about the importance of knowing my rights. Health care, and the access to equitable, affordable health services is a primary need. It is not fair to burden people and communities who are deeply impacted by various structural, historical, institutional and social disenfranchisement to “not get sick”, to “not care for their families”, to “not have the expectation that the services they receive are culturally respectful and supports their best outcomes”.

As someone who worked within a local public health authority, I saw firsthand what challenges people encounter when attempting to access health insurance and health care. As an educator, I seek to impact the outcomes of my clients/patients by empowering them to develop plans for

OR Commission on Black Affairs

Chair:

James Morris

Vice Chair:

Musse Olol

Commissioners:

Robin Morris Collin
Jamal T. Fox
Mariotta Gary-Smith
Kayse Jama
Lawanda Manning
Nicole Rowe
Gwendolyn Trice

Legislative Members:

Sen. Monroe
Rep. Bynum

Staff:

Lucy Baker, Administrator
Nancy Kramer, Executive Asst.

consistent & regular check-ups, build their knowledge about particular diseases and other conditions that impact them & their communities; and encouraging them to ask questions about their health care, providers and services - because they have the right to engage in their own health journey. I've seen where positive health outcomes are connected to how someone knows and engages with the health care system, and if they're able to advocate for themselves. If people are unable to gain access to health care as their given right, it perpetuates the idea that many communities are not worthy of consideration and expendable – particularly those that are already experiencing greater harm and disease.

With more Oregonians gaining access to care as a result of the ACA (Affordable Care Act), it strikes me as even more important to ensure that ALL Oregonians can receive the health care they need and deserve. Making it affordable is a primary rule to support this effort. By establishing this right as part of the state Constitution, this can be a significant step towards building a transformative health care system for many years to come, especially when looking at the current national political climate.

And, this also cements Oregon as a place that is willing to explore ways of making health care a main priority, searching for ways to reduce costs without harming its citizens - urban to rural; citizens of varying identities, expressions and abilities; low and middle-income populations, and communities of color - ALL its citizens are able to access and afford health care. Oregon has the opportunity to step forward to concretize its commitment to all its communities by ensuring access to quality, affordable health care in our state constitution.

As a member of the Oregon Commission on Black Affairs, as a native & citizen of Oregon - as someone who is dedicated to serving my community for better health, I urge your support for House Joint Resolution 203.

Mariotta Gary-Smith

Mariotta Gary-Smith, Member, Commission on Black Affairs

Chanpone Sinlapasai, Chair,
Oregon Commission on Asian and Pacific
Islander Affairs

James Morris, Chair
Oregon Commission on Black Affairs

Alberto Moreno, Chair,
Oregon Commission on Hispanic Affairs

Dr. Barbara Spencer, Chair
Oregon Commission for Women