Analysis:

The bill provides additional enforcement capacity to the Office of Child Care, within the Oregon Department of Education, and increases civil penalties for violations by child care facilities. An existing requirement is deleted from statute which obligated that a written warning must be issued for a violation before assessing a civil penalty. A child care facility’s certification or registration/renewal application may be revoked or denied if the facility fails to pay a civil penalty after the order imposing the penalty becomes final.

The Office of Child Care reports that the additional enforcement capacity provided by this bill is anticipated to have no fiscal impact. The table below outlines the current civil penalty structure and estimates revenues based on the new maximum penalties. The Legislative Fiscal Office notes that the revenue projections assume that childcare facilities rectify violations within one day of the penalty assessment, as the new civil penalties can be assessed on a daily basis.

Violation Description	Current Civil Penalty Structure			New Civil Penalty Structure
	Maximum Penalty	Average Quantity Per Biennium	Average Revenue Per Biennium	Maximum Penalty	Estimated Quantity Per Biennium	Maximum Revenue Per Biennium
