SB 1538 A STAFF MEASURE SUMMARY

Senate Bill 969 (2015) created the Joint Interim Task Force on Reentry, Employment and Housing (Task Force). The Task Force was mandated to study and recommend actions that state and local governments could take to improve reentry for persons with a criminal conviction, and assist in expanding housing and employment opportunities. The Task Force found that a driver's license is critical for obtaining employment and independence. In Oregon, a license can be suspended for a number of reasons unrelated to the operation of a motor vehicle. The Task Force heard from the State of Washington about its efforts to reform license suspension practices, including elimination of several suspensions that were unrelated to the operation of a motor vehicle. Ultimately, the Task Force recommended legislation reforming driver's license suspensions. Senate Bill 1538-A encompasses much of the Task Force's recommendations.

Oregon law has two separate statutes governing hardship driver permits and probationary driver permits. The latter are issued to persons who have their licenses revoked as habitual offenders. Hardship permits are issued to people for a variety of reasons, such as getting to and from work, after having a license suspended for certain reasons, such as driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Senate Bill 1538-A makes several changes to provisions involving driver license suspensions and driving permits. First, it eliminates probationary driving permits. It also standardizes the various requirements for a hardship permit and allows habitual offenders to obtain a hardship permit. Next, SB 1538-A eliminates several types of driving privilege suspensions that are unrelated to the operation of a motor vehicle, such as suspensions for littering. SB 1538-A also specifies that these changes are applicable to hardship permits and driving privilege suspensions or revocations issued on or after the bill's effective date. Hardship permits, probationary permits, and driving privilege suspensions or revocations issued prior to that date are governed by the applicable laws in effect at the time of the most recent suspension.
