Dear Chair Dembrow,

Oregon farmers already operate on extremely thin margins. Cap-and-trade will make those operations less competitive in the domestic and global marketplace. Additional fuel costs or higher fertilizer prices can't simply be passed to the customer. That means that any extra costs associated with cap-and-trade must be absorbed by family farms and ranches.

I urge you to oppose the cap-and-trade bill (LC 19). Family farms and those who work on them can't afford this policy. More work needs to be done to address the concerns raised by farmers, ranchers, and loggers.

Thank you for listening to my concerns.

Sincerely,

Tim Farnsworth
