I am opposed everything about this concept. This is a blatant attempt to prevent people from exercising their 2nd amendment rights and being able to protect themselves or enjoy shooting sports. It also puts unreasonable restrictions on individuals who own firearms making regular activity and ownership of a firearm almost completely illegal. Putting liability on an owner for crimes committed by another person is unacceptable. That's like saying well a guy stole your kitchen knife and murdered someone so you go to jail because you didn't lock up your knife drawer. How does that make any sense? Literally none of this will prevent crime or horrific acts of violence. Even if you outlawed guns entirely people will commit horrible crimes but instead of firearms it will be things like bombs. This regulate everything to death mentality is getting old. Peoples making these kinds of decisions about firearms is unacceptable and misguided most of whom are ignorant about firearms or any statistics revolving around firearm violence. Please see past the fear and do not proceed with these horrible ideas.
