Dear Chair Dembrow and members of the committee,

I am writing in support of the strongest climate legislation that can be obtained this session. While I understand the necessity to achieve bipartisan support for this, I fear that we will dilute and still lose this battle. I trust your wisdom in navigating this essential matter. I urge you to be bold.

As a former Alaskan, I have witnessed the devastation of climate change. As a senior who lives in a 110 year old house in a current flood plain, I am burdened with vast increases in my flood insurance every year. Compared to the losses of many, this is minor, but a foreshadowing of the future.

As a great grandmother, I want to leave a world better than when I entered.

Finally, as a retired psychologist who has worked many years in the schools for many years, I echo Senator Roblan's concern that our failure to act leaves our young people fearful for their future.

Thank you for your work,

Carol Greenough, Ph.D.
