Hi I hope this finds you well

Thanks for your consideration of my additions to the process

I am 54 and have been farming for 30 years.

I believe we need to try some legislation like this in large part because people don't appear to be changing their practices in every part of society at a rate needed to avert climate chaos.

While I support small government, this situation exactly when government has a responsibility to enact it's best possible legislation.

We are responsible to leave the legacy of a livable planet for the future.

Thanks and best wishes,

Kevin Jones
