

Hello -

My wife and I own a small condo (550 sqft) that we have rented since July of 2019. Our tenants (a married couple) are fantastic and hard working members of the community. One of them has recently lost her job due to the restaurant closure.

Our concern is how to continue to pay our mortgage if both of our tenants lose their jobs?

Is there any consideration for for long-term rental help for tenants to help small landlords like ourselves?

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
