

Hello,

My name is Julie, and I'm a small business owner (photographer) in Portland, Oregon. I am a service-based business that works face-to-face with my clients on location. Therefore my business has stopped. I am worried about all the other small business owners that I know whose businesses have more overhead and employees, like small bakeries, massage therapists, and more. Loans are not helpful because that is just money to pay later--everyone's bills are going to pile up with less or no business! There needs to be some kind of direct relief in the form of grants or waivers so that these entrepreneurs and job creators can continue to support themselves and the economy.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
