

Good afternoon,

I am Zong Moua, a current substitute teacher for the metro Portland area. I am currently in a long term position at Earl Boyles but with the situation of schools being shut down until the end of April, I am anxious and nervous about our financial situation. My husband just found out today that they may close down his plant he is currently working for. We are trying to make ends meet as it is with both of us working full time jobs. We are the working poor. We work overtime hours, two jobs if we can, and we are barely hanging on for dear life. Our hearts and minds are not at rest knowing that our finances may cease in the next few weeks. What are we to do to bring in income? Please help us out financially some way without penalty or repayment. Please consider our plea in your thoughts and decision making.

With a heavy heart,

Zong Moua
