

To whom it may concern,

Being unable to evict tenants for nonpayment of rent will bring unnecessary hardship on landlords like ourselves who live on the rental income from our two properties. Rent assistance or subsidies paid to the landlord would be a better way to assist us all during this pandemic. It took us a lifetime of working to own our rentals and it's wrong to remove our legal remedies and deprive us of our income.

Cliff Wheeler

Sent from my iPad