

To whom this may concern,

First I hope you can find a solution that can address the needs of a number of different people from both sides of this complex issue.

We are a retired couple and have two rentals which we count on to maintain our ability to buy food, pay bills, and cover all the cost of the rentals. We are responsible landlords and have some funds set aside to cover things that go wrong and to cover if one of the houses are empty for a month or two. But it would be really hard on us if both houses were to not pay rent for 90 days. I am not sure what we would do if this were to happen. It is not like we could collect unemployment or get any assistance because we own 3 homes. And selling one of the rentals will most likely not be an option because we cannot make the tenants move out. I do not think that both our tenants will not be able to pay rent at lease I hope that is not going to become the case.

It sure is getting harder and harder for retired people trying to provide housing for people that cannot afford a home of their own.

I pray that this virus goes away and the people that are sick get well soon. I also hope that people learn to save for the unexpected because the unexpected does happen.

Thank you for taking the time to read my comment.
