

I lost my position at the end of June. I filed for assistance & I still have not received anything. I called to inquire as to what was going on & when I did get a line I was on hold for 4hours straight two days, 5 hours & 4 hours. When I did get someone finally yesterday I was advised I just have to wait. Two months with nothing coming in & I cannot receive an explanation? Maybe there is a good reason.....I am still looking & nothing coming in is frustrating especially when I know I am qualified.....& THEY told me I was eligible. Apparently the adjudicator is backed up..... I bet they are getting paid!!!!
