Hello,

It is funny... having studied policing for some time now. That you all depend on the state to protect you from the crimes that you commit... the crimes that the state enables. Qualified immunity is not a principal that applies to law officers et al. Qualified immunity is the language and actions you hide behind when one of your indoctrinated state goons kills another member of our communities. It is the perpetuation of nativist, capitalist, white supremacist ideology, through state violence. And your fear that the vast majority of the public is becoming aware of your principals and how you twist legalities is coming true. With this, you are saying that is it an inconvenience to hold those actors of the state accountable for the states violence.

Fuck you, fascist scum.
