Capacity and Vacancies during COVID-19

Both capacity and vacancies have generally increased during the pandemic.

Because vacancies and capacity have mostly tracked together, the proportion filled has been mostly the same over time, with a slight increase.

Vacancies by Age Group

Infant & toddler care was hard to find before the pandemic and has remained hard to find during the pandemic (low vacancies).

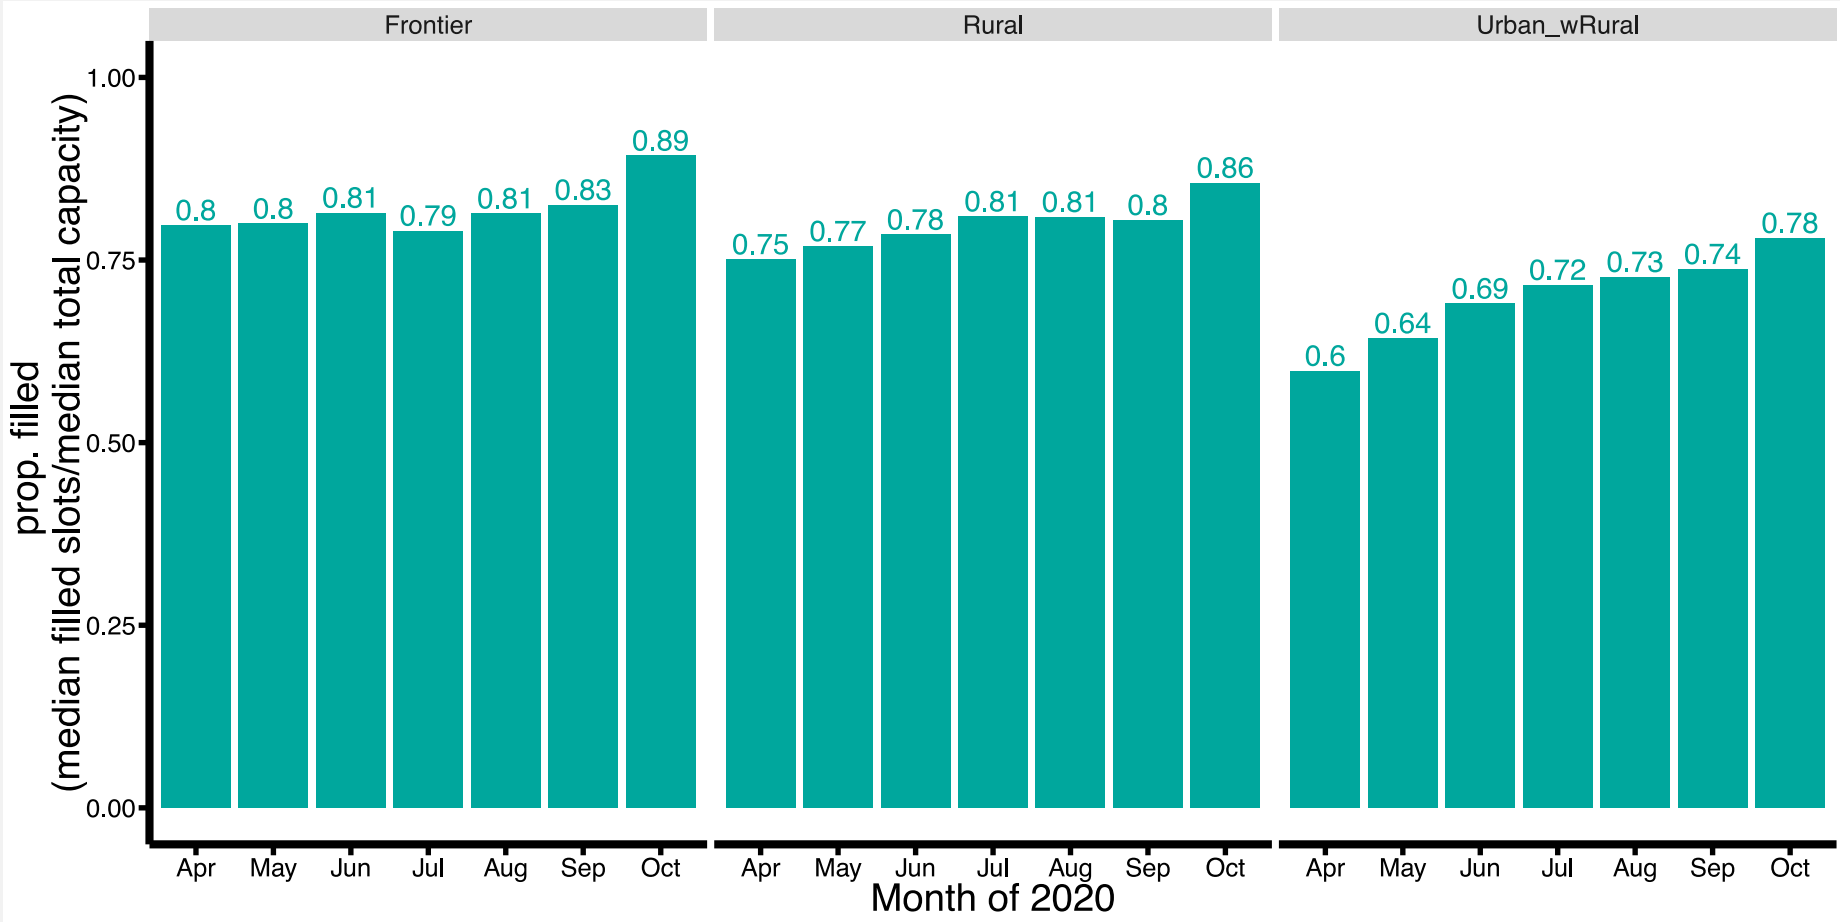

High vacancy rates during the pandemic are recently starting to decline.

Proportion Filled by Geographic Region

The market for child care seems to have tightened somewhat more in frontier and rural areas compared to urban areas.

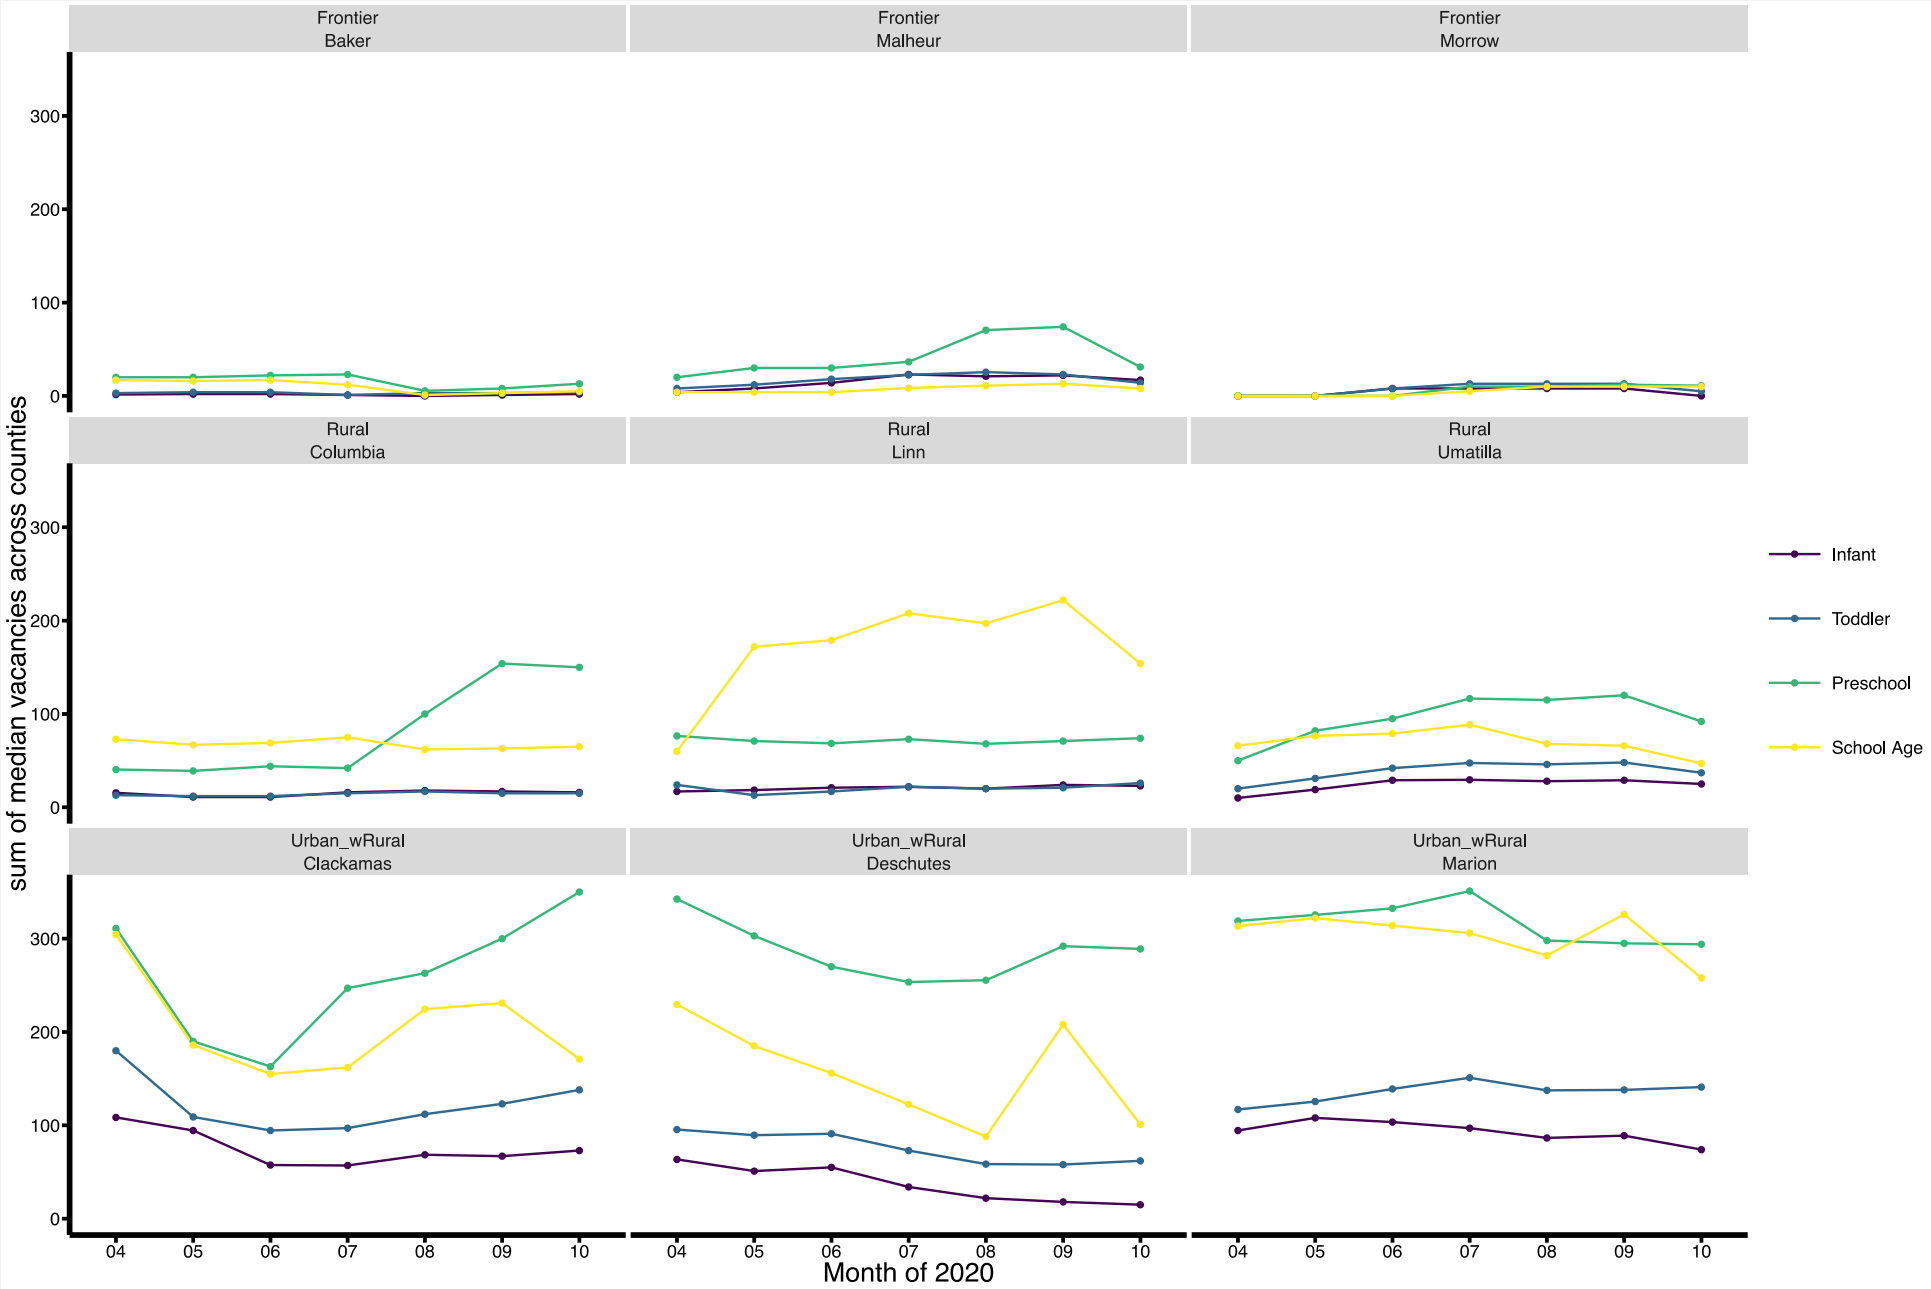

Vacancies.

Child care markets are incredibly local.

We see different stories
when we look in different counties.

Capacity by Type of Child Care Program

Center-based care is showing the biggest recovery across the pandemic, because that is where the biggest lost was initially.
