

Please hear me loud and clear, my property owners deserve 100% of the back rent. It is horrendous that after going through the rent deferral, you now are asking them to forgive 20% of what is owed to them.

r

I have had two owners lose their rentals due to tenants not paying rent.

Why is it that these tenants can get by with not having to show that there is a hardship? I have tenants that have not lost their jobs, yet they can defer the rent. Why can they live for free while the property owner still must make their payments.

I still don't understand why tenants that have a fixed income in which they have had for several years, yet get a stimulus check, why not get free money putting the nation deeper in debt.

Democrats wake up and stop bailing people out that do not deserve it. Your thinking doesn't make sense.

Do you think that anyone that doesn't pay rent for a year is actually going to make payments to get the back rent caught up? This is going to be a nightmare for the courts as property owners sue past tenants and have their wages garnished. Stop the deferral for renters who can not document that they have had a hardship.

Sandy Price
All Points Real Estate
Principal Broker/Owner
541 782-1090 office
541 729-7550 cell