

Testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee In support of SB 360 On behalf of the Oregon State Bar Nonprofit Organizations Section February 4, 2019

Senator Prozanski, members of the Committee:

Good Morning. My name is Wendi Warren H. Binford and I am a Professor of Law and Director of the Clinical Law Program at Willamette University. One of the first things I did after arriving in 2005 was create a Business Law Clinic to serve Oregon's nonprofits on a pro bono basis. Although we subsequently added emerging businesses to our roster of clients, the majority of our clients in the Business Law Clinic continue to be Oregon nonprofit organizations. Before joining the law faculty at Willamette, I spent eight years at Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP, where I regularly provided pro bono representation to nonprofit organizations. In short, I have over 20 years of experience representing nonprofits, including 14 years in Oregon. I am here today as a representative of the Nonprofit Organizations section of the Oregon State Bar in support of SB260. I have personally been working on this legislation since 2017 and my colleagues have been working on this legislation since 2014.

Oregon State Bar

The Oregon State Bar (OSB) is a public corporation and an instrumentality of the court with over 14,000 active members. The mission of the Oregon State Bar is to serve justice by promoting respect for the rule of law, by improving the quality of legal services, and by increasing access to justice. Among its core values are fairness and diversity. The Oregon State Bar licenses and disciplines lawyers and performs other functions to benefit the public: including lawyer referral services, modest means and veterans programs, and legal education for attorneys and members of the public.

Nonprofit Organizations Section

The Nonprofit section of the Oregon State Bar was originally formed in 2011 and today is made of up of over 100 attorneys who represent nonprofit organizations from around the state.

Updating Proposed 2017 Legislation

Oregon's Nonprofit Corporation Code was enacted in 1989, and has remained largely unchanged since that time. In the years since enactment, the lawyers who assist and advise nonprofit corporations as well as the lawyers who provide oversight for charities through the Attorney General's office have found situations for which the statutory language is ambiguous or unhelpful. In addition, changes relating to the use of electronic resources for notice and meetings have left some sections of the Nonprofit Corporation Code in need of modernization.

For those reasons, we appeared before the legislature in 2017 in support of HB 2609, which we hoped would modernize the statue and provide nonprofit organizations with additional clarity regarding their responsibilities. During discussions on that bill a number of concerns were raised, which our section has spent the interim addressing.

The attached report explains in detail the changes to Chapter 65 made in SB 360. Some of the changes from the 2017 version of this proposal include eliminating the option for a member or director to use the nonprofit's address as their contact address, maintaining the existing requirement that a nonprofit with members hold an annual meeting, and maintaining existing supermajority requirements for mutual benefit corporations, while eliminating those requirements for public benefit and religious corporations.

This bill clarifies and improves the law for Oregon's thousands of nonprofit corporations, many of whom operate with minimal staff or legal representation. The changes made in this bill will help nonprofits comply with their legal obligations while focusing on their individual missions.

We look forward to continuing to work with the legislature on this important area of law and would be happy to answer any questions you might have.
