

There seems to be a non thinking between Government wanting to tax and government not understanding when its time to live with in the means of the tax producing public. The entire sector that supposedly produces carbon pollution could be removed from the Oregon populace and the change of clearing the air would never happen. This is foolish thinking on the part of an over zealous government looking to get more money from the already broke public.

Thanks

Ps: No more tax and no increases in taxes and government uncontrolled fees.
