

What about taxing the carbon output from the wildfires from the federal lands one wildfire produces more carbon into the air than a full year of carbon from all other sources.