

Some people hunt coyotes for sport and competition, some people hunt coyotes for fun or something to do on a cold winter day. There is nothing wrong with competing for coyotes as they can bring some revenue to the little north eastern towns in Oregon and also help manage the coyote packs in Oregon. Coyotes take live stock from farmers and ranchers and that takes revenue away from those hard working families. Coyote contests can help manage and keep the coyotes at bay so they do not over run us and our deer herds and live stock. Thank you.
