

Keep-on-keeping-on

Dan

I have just attended the regional meeting of the HB 2020 committee in Medford. I think I can safely say that the auditorium was packed out, and that a large percentage of the attendees were in opposition to the bill.

I was not there for the entire event but heard testifiers from both sides of the issue speak and defend their positions. One thing became abundantly clear, those who testified in favor virtually all had one thing in common: They all hold the opinion that whatever climate change we are or may be experiencing is caused by human beings. There was no allowance given for what history bears out, that climate change has always been and is likely to always be.

You as legislators have the fiduciary responsibility to be absolutely certain that the criteria you use to lead our state are based on TRUTH. There is no doubt that there are reams of material, some truth and some opinion, all being presented as TRUTH, but that is an impossibility. It is your duty as elected officials to determine one way or the other. I submit that whichever bias you hold, if you do open-minded research you must find that there is reasonable doubt enough to withhold the life-changing verdict that HB2020 is.

Consider this:

True truth and Discernment will equal Facts.

Twisted truth (deception) and Emotions will equal at best an Opinion
