

I urge you to carefully consider the many concerns that are being raised by Oregon parents and educators regarding Bill HG3063.

I stand alongside many Oregonians that have been personally touched and negatively impacted by vaccines. My family has chosen to research carefully each vaccine and illness to determine what is right for each one of our children. We have chosen to selectively vaccinate our children. We are well informed. It is a shame that even those who give some or most of the recommended vaccines will not be in compliance according to this bill.

Vaccine freedom is important, and educational freedom is paramount. One affects the other in this case. This is a scary bill with long term with wide reaching implications. Put the rights and freedom of choice in the hands of parents, where both rightfully belong.

Thank you,
Michelle Johnson, stay at home mother, educator
