

Dear Senate,

My family has bred bird dogs for 55 years. Having seen a lot of hunting and field trialing over the years, I know how often the wounded birds go missing. Nothing is worse than having a shot and wounded bird go missing. It is a terrible waste of food for our families. Without dogs to track and find them, the amount of waste would be staggering. I feel it is imperative that this bill does not go through.

Sincerely,

Laura Borges

Sent from Yahoo Mail on Android