

Hi!

I don't write often. As an ED RN, I really value immunizations. I had a patient die of tetanus years ago. He was a farmer. Totally preventable. We expect parents to responsibly care for their children. Most do. Some erroneously believe in fake science, making my 7 month old granddaughter at greater risk of diseases she is too young to be vaccinated against. Please help increase the vaccination rate by eliminating unnecessary exceptions. Parents that don't immunize their kids without true reason (allergy) are no different than religious parents who pray away pneumonia.
