I oppose bill 3063 the following is a summary of reasons why this bill should not pass. All medical procedures come with risks. Last year the Vaers system paid 4 billion in damages to families of children who had adverse reactions including physical, neurological and mental disorders. Some have even died from these vaccines. We don't yet know what causes vaccine reactions like these. Forcing parents to play a game of Russian roulette in order to get a good education for their child is in-humane and unconstitutional. If the main concern is that children who have a weakened immune system may become infected by these partially vaccinated or unvaccinated children then the more logical solution would be for those children with known weakened immune systems to be the ones who are homeschooled. Those who are weakened are the ones that must take extra care and protection of them selves. They could just as easily get the flu (which is not part of the routine vaccination schedule and does not have a very good effective rate anyway as the flu virus is ever mutating from year to year) from a vaccinated or unvaccinated child and become severely effected and hospitalized. Furthermore newly vaccinated children can infect these immune compromised children with "vaccine shedding" <https://www.nvic.org/CMSTemplates/NVIC/pdf/Live-Virus-Vaccines-and-Vaccine-Shedding.pdf>

Vaccines cannot be considered safe for all to use. They have reactions and risks and therefore must have a choice so families can weight the pros and cons against their own individual genetics. If the state mandates vaccines they will be violating a group of people's civil rights, their 14th amendment and their 1st amendment. all U.S. citizens have the right to an education. We all have the right to autonomy. We have the right to uphold religious beliefs. We all have the right to make informed decisions in regards to parenting and medical decisions. We can do better then taking away American citizens choices. We need more options not less. Currently there is no state financial help to homeschool children whom cannot attend public school. We need more studies and not clinging to old ones or ones that were done by a biased company. We need cleaner vaccines that are morally sound. No more adjunctives, preservatives, aluminum, animal dna (from sources like monkey brains) or heavy metals. We need options that protect everyone's interests. Would we, as adults, agree to forced vaccinations in order to keep certain rights? Children shouldn't be treated with a lesser degree of respect. We need to know why certain children are at risk for being vaccine injured. Personally I have decided that our families history of immune compromised disorders, learning disabilities (such as dyslexia and sensory processing disorders) and severe allergies are a risk for such reaction. There is certain vaccine pamphlets that even state if there is a family history of allergies that you should not vaccinate or use extreme caution when doing so. No doctor I have heard of takes this into consideration or does any genetic or allergy testing to first see if vaccines are safe for the individual. In the end no one is left with the repercussions but the parents. The vaccine company cannot be held accountable due to a a completely unheard of instance of being pardoned by the government for any liability. would the state then be left accountable for such instances? Would there be any compensation to help with medical bills, therapy, loss of wages (possibly forever since some vaccine injured kids never recover and need constant care by a parent). The statistics show that some vaccines have a higher risk of reaction then side effects of the disease itself. One theory is this is due to an accumulation of chemicals etc. in vaccines.
