

Please Vote No on HB3063

My name is Lindea Bowe Kirschner. I live in Ashland, Oregon. I urge you to oppose HB3063 for the sake of our public education system and to keep our very healthy friends and neighbors with businesses and kids in the state of Oregon.

I was born and raised in the Hood River valley. My Dad, Chuck Bowe, was the principal of the high school. My parents instilled in me a deep respect for the value of a good education. My parents would be appalled (they have both passed on) if Oregon passed a bill denying public education to thousands of children, simply because their parents had cause to make a different choice for their kids.

Denied a public education, unwilling to submit, it would only make sense for those segregated families to leave the state in order to protect their children, to move to a state that respects the right of families to choose their medical care. Oregon would inevitably lose a lot of money for public education, along with businesses and the opportunity they provide for our citizens.

I grew up at a time (born in 1952) when Big Pharma didn't have so much influence over doctor/patient relationships, didn't run non stop ads on television, and didn't give massive amounts of money to politicians to influence their votes.

When I was a kid, most of us had measles, chicken pox and mumps. We were fortunate to receive lifetime immunity from having these childhood infections. There was a lot more common sense back then.

I certainly don't understand what all the hysteria is about regarding the "measles epidemic". There clearly isn't one. But it appears that Big Pharma is controlling the narrative, and is attempting to get control of our state's children at the cost of our freedom and right to choose.

Many of us remember a time when we took vaccines for granted, and believed it was for the public welfare. Those days are gone, thanks to all the hyperbole around this issue. There is a lot of fraud, cover-up and vaccine damage and zero liability for Big Pharma, which has pursued this agenda by corrupting our political process and our news media. And why? Because a liability free product is a huge money maker for industry, and it's no surprise that the number of vaccinations for babies and children keeps increasing. We had a handful of vaccines growing up. Now it's something like 72 injections.

I am reading JB Handley's book "How to End the Autism Epidemic" - I highly recommend it if you want to learn about the science behind vaccines. You can't pretend you don't know what's happening to this generation of children. You've heard from the citizens again. Do the right thing for us, not the thing that the donors or a political party wants for some agenda other than the one you swore your oath to uphold.
