

I oppose this bill, on the grounds that costs are too high for the average Oregonian, for the very minor changes to the climate. I think that voluntary carbon reduction is better than government mandatory forced only green no oil, coal, gas power production, given the current level of the current technology. So I think that this policy should be decided by the people who will pay for this policy.
Respectfully, Timothy Navarro, Josephine county , Oregon....