BACKGROUND:

Oregon Administrative Rule 581-022-2060 indicates that districts/schools must provide a Comprehensive School Counseling program. There is no specific language about who delivers this program. The Comprehensive School Counseling program is outlined in Oregon Department of Education's Framework for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs. The rule indicates that schools identify licensed staff responsible for planning, designing, and delivering the comprehensive program. Districts have used both school counselors and school social workers to provide a Comprehensive School Counseling program.
