

Dear Members of the House Rules Committee and Senate Committee on Campaign Finance Reform,

I write today seeking your leadership and support for campaign contribution limits and mandatory taglines on political advertisements.

I'm a proud Oregonian and I'm deeply concerned about the role big money is playing in Oregon politics, nevermind the rest of the country.

Oregon has one of the worst records nationwide with regard to money in politics. As reported in the February 22 Oregonian investigative news story "Polluted by Money", Oregon is one of only five states that have no campaign contribution limits whatsoever, and it has the highest corporate giving in elections per capita of any state.

Lets become LEADERS in America and move in this direction

Sincerely,

Kevin M. Green
