The military is even prone to virus outbreaks no matter how vaccinated. The cnn article above is about an outbreak of a mump type virus on a U.S. Navy ship. There will always be virus outbreaks even in highly vaccinated populations. Viruses are not controllable or treatable, they are nature.

Forcing vaccination for education is a money scheme not a health scheme. As to the bill and addendums and segregating unvaccinated children from activities and limiting their lifestyle, it is a form of imprisonment and creating a health issue. This bill and its addendums if passed will contribute to the obesity and mental health issues this country already has and that is a way bigger health issue than any virus in the United States. Children will be afraid to play with others because of the fear you are creating.

When I grew up, no one ever would have thought to ask about someone's vaccination status to play with them. Now there's paranoia happening over viruses that are uncontrollable and that vaccination status really doesn't mean anything cause that other person could be one of the one's the vaccine doesn't work for. So, let's just avoid all other people cause we might get sick. Sickness is part of life and a healthy immune system is the only protection you have. Destroying that immune system with vaccines is creating an unhealthy society.

I have heard stories already of children being harassed by educators and not allowed on field trips because of their vaccination status. Teachers, who do have the ability to be exempt from vaccines, should not have access to their students vaccination status. That is a HIPPA violation and requiring it for activity is discrimination. The school district should be the only ones with the information.

Children are kicked out of pediatrician's practices because of vaccination status. The doctors don't get their bonuses for the unvaccinated. It's about the money not about Do No Harm. It does keep the unvaccinated from being exposed to the shedding of disease of the recently vaccinated so maybe they do have health in mind. But I think it really is about making their vaccinated numbers for the bonus they get. Since unvaccinated really don't need a doctor anyways cause they're never sick, it's not that big of a deal. But it is shocking that our country's morals have stooped so low. Thank you for voting NO on HB 3063 and its addendums. Kill the Bill!
