

Dogs and cats used for research, like all companion animals, deserve a chance to spend the rest of their lives in loving homes. And you can help make it happen!

In Oregon, SB 638 would require a research facility that uses cats and dogs for scientific research to take steps to provide for the adoption of a dog or cat who is no longer needed for that purpose. A research facility may enter into an agreement with an animal rescue organization to arrange for an adoption.

All animal research should stop. But, until it does, at least let these poor creatures have some normalcy and know love for the remainder of their lives. It's a compromise we all need.
