

Hi. Please please please pass SB 638 that requires research facilities to adopt out the animals used (tortured) for scientific purposes after the facilities are "done" with them. The animals shouldn't be tortured or harmed to begin with. So at minimum, the sweet dogs and cats should be able to live the remainder of their lives away from torture and in a loving home. It's the only compassionate option, short of barring animal experimentation entirely, which I would also support.
