Writing on behalf of my ten family members, seven of whom are voting, tax-paying adults: It seems obvious to us--intuitive, in fact--that all creatures, human and non-require clean air to remain healthy and to have a thriving planet on which to rely in future.

The impacts of "dirty diesel" are easiest to illustrate in those suffering from asthma, COPD, other illnesses negatively impacted by compromised air. But we all suffer less than optimal health when our oxygen is mixed with gases and particles that are toxic to all living beings.

We hope that your committee will take this issue sufficiently to heart to include strong protective amendments to HB 2007; and then to support it with the power of your offices and your vote.

Sincerely,

M.
