BACKGROUND:

In 2015, the Oregon State Legislature appropriated $250,000 to support the implementation and enhancement of accelerated college credit programs within Oregon's educational system. The grants were allocated to support the education and training of teachers providing accelerated college credit programs. The funds can also be used to assist in paying for materials and other costs, excluding testing fees related to accelerated college credit programs. The Oregon Department of Education provided preference to regions with high poverty rates, historically underrepresented student populations, and those without Regional Promise grant funds. Oregon public school districts, education service districts, regional consortiums, and public post-secondary institutions could apply for the grants.

HB 2263 would require the Oregon Department of Education (ODE) establish the Accelerated College Credit Planning Partnership Grant program in coordination with the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC). It defines accelerated college credit as: dual credit, two-plus-two, advanced placement, and International Baccalaureate programs. The grants would encourage partnerships in offering accelerated college credit programs between districts and post-secondary institutions. The measure also renames the accelerated college credit program being administered by the Oregon Department of Education to “Accelerated College Credit Instructor Grant Program” and requires collaboration with HECC. It expands and clarifies the purpose of the grant program.
