

Dear Senate Committee On Education members,

Please support SB 283. I am very concerned about the microwave radiation from wireless technology. It penetrates more deeply into the body than previous generation wireless, and it likely poses a substantial risk to health. This is especially true for our children, whose cells are multiplying more rapidly than those of adults. Unfortunately, we can not rely on the Federal Communications Commission and other federal agencies as they would like to prevent us from considering the health impacts of 5G! We need independently funded studies relating to the biological effects of microwave radiation from wireless technology is urgently needed, and Oregon can help lead the way. Better safe than sorry! Thank you for your consideration of this important matter.
