

The central principle of democracy is that every vote should be counted equally. The Electoral College does not do that. A popular vote does.

Please add Oregon to the long list of states supporting this popular, common-sense reform.

Peter Drake
Portland