

Omnibus Bill. Another attempt to debunk the public.

Let's enforce existing gun laws instead of adding more with such complicated wording it requires a law degree to interpret.

Let's not punish responsible, law abiding firearms owners when convicted felons are busted all the time with guns.

Let's not punish everyone for the actions of a few. Let's address other causes such as mental health.

Government does not have the right to control aspects of our personal lives as they aspire to do.

The popularity of violent movies and video games reinforces what the perception of our society is all about. Notice any trends?

Please table this bill and work on more constructive issues.

Thanks for your time.
