

Never again does this country want to see 77,000 votes move into the presidency a person who lost the total vote count by three million! It would never happen at the PTA or the school board or even in a game show. In any contest, the person with the most votes wins. Yet, within 16 years, this grand country of ours has been hoodwinked by the outmoded disaster we call the Electoral College TWICE. No more.

America has learned its lesson at a horrific cost that may never be rectified. Please do all you can individually and collectively to pass this measure out of committee and into law -- into history. Make us proud of you.

Sincerely,

Ms. Saran Miskimins
