

Please understand that any gun laws past, present and future only makes it harder for the non-criminal element of society to exercise their constitutional right to carry and bear arms. Any and all guns law will not effect the bad guys, they don't abide by the law in any form.

Steve Sellers