

Every Vote Should be Equal

Individual voters are what should matter in an election, not the geographic location of where that votes was cast. I grew up in Pennsylvania and experienced the attention and engagement that the state received in presidential elections due to it being a 'swing state'. My family still lives there. It is crazy to me that their votes matter more than mine simply because they live in a swing state and I don't Please address this issue by voting yes on SB 870.
