

To Senate President Peter Couttly:

I want to remind you of the Oath you took to protect the Constitution Of The United States.

May I remind you the last phrase of the 2nd amendment is, shall not be infringed.

Any infringements are unconstitutional and illegal, and in violation of the Oath you took,

I hop you reconsider, the destruction of the Constitution, think about it.

David Anderson, Springfield