

You have completely lost any common sense regarding punishing the entire state of Oregon to make a few people happy. Have you figured out the cash value this will cost when you try to prosecute the many people who are not going to give up heirloom family firearms. You will have to occupy many court rooms, feed and house all of the violaters that will happen when this law is passed. You might have interviewed some ordinary gun owners and worked out some compromises that would make a set of rules to live with

At the very least, think about it. Not everyone wants to look over their shoulder to not be in violation of some of these rules that are being proposed. Respectfully Gary Henshaw, Merlin, OR.
